Judge calls for re-vote in 6 boxes.

Mauffray certification under review

I sign against voting

Bill of exceptions was filed Tuesday by the county commission's decision to place J.C. "Peck" Mauffray's name on the Nov. 7 Democratic nomination for supervisor.

Two papers and $100 cash were presented to J. Norton, one of the three commissioners. The election has five days to act on the order which Mauffray may file in circuit Judge Leslie Lott.

The commission's opinion said Monday and announced a special tribunal hearing another aspect of the case on a hearing Friday on a petition signed by 61 electors in Beat 4 regarding Mauffray's nomination.

The petition contended that he did not own $300 worth of estate in the district to be a candidate for supervisor.

The election commission did not qualify because it did not have a deed to any land by June 9, deadline to file for Democratic primary, or for 29 days of the first third party primaries, or when the Democratic committee made its canvass of the run-off.

On a deed of Oct. 25 first time he owned date in 1967, the opinion said, it did not reflect any name. Mauffray contended he made a contract of purchase.

Qualifying Mauffray as candidate in next Tuesday's election, the commission would not put on the name of any other person for Beat 4 supervisor.

"no person has been nominated by the voters Democratic primary and the utmost that can be done is that there has been no Democratic primary election office."

The ballot will be left blank and the object to a general election provided by law.

Bay-Waveland swamped

On Coast twister day

Nearly five and a half inches of rain deluged the Bay-Waveland area Monday as three twisters wound their way inshore further along the coast.

Estimates of wind velocity maximums locally varied between 20 and 40 miles per hour but, all agreed, it was pretty strong in gusts.

Tree limbs and branches were felled by the blasts but unlike in neighboring Harrison County, no reports of injuries occurred.

Hardest hit in that county was an area defined as the state Port of Gulfport, and another area in eastern Gulfport from Teagarden Road and 1st to 90 in Mississippi City, across word through Handport.

Two persons were killed and 42 injured sufficiently to require hospitalization, the area.

Hancock General Hospital was put on the alert at about 4:30 p.m. and kept full degree of emergency readiness for one hour. At that time the Mississippi Highway Patrol increased the facility from emergency status but hospital officials, fearing a difficult time in reassessing their personnel, sought further assistance from the U.S. Air Force medical staff at the base.

At 5:30 p.m., the instant when the first twister began to develop, a second burst of development followed.

Surveillance stations reported 100 miles of each of the two twisters to destroy trees, utility lines, and structures, the report said.

Damage to buildings was estimated at $100,000.

Cedicare load up

Hancock General Hospital has 80 such institutions in Mississippi participating in the Medicare program, according to Robert P. Bynum, regional health commissioner.

Bynum said Friday that the hospital is assisting to provide medical care for eligible aged persons under the medicare plan. Two hundred and ten thousand such people were listed throughout the state July 1966 to June 30, '67. They comprised 62 per cent of total

There is evidence that a significant number of elderly persons have entered hospitals for surgical procedures and other medical services they otherwise might not have received, Bynum said.

(Paid for by Hancock County Supporters of Karl Goss for State Representative.)

In this wild era when pseudo students and Hippies are costing taxpayers a fortune, staging demonstrations and burning draft cards all over the place, and even clergymen are pouring blood on Selective Service files, comes a very different type communication from a Margaret Gordon in Amityville, N.Y. Her letter begins by saying that women of America have always risen to the call to do their part during each conflict in which the nation has a part. In World War I, the feminines populated knitted socks, sweaters, caps and mittens, and rolled bandages for the boys "over there". In WW II, they salvaged iron, tin cans, toothpaste tubes, glass bottles and made surgical dressings. Later during the action in Korea, the people rallied and gathered good, clean used clothing and blankets.

A firm and helping hand

Now with more than just a "police action" going on in Vietnam, many are wondering what they can do to assist. General Walt, commanding in Vietnam, has sent the following message to all who care. In order to perform the mission, certain building and life-giving materials are absolutely essential. The starving must be fed, the sick cannot be cared for without medicine, schools cannot function without books and teachers, roads and wells cannot be built without cement, tools and equipment. In general, a new nation cannot be built without resources. I can assure you that progress is being made and your donations to the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund have played a significant role in this progress far beyond monetary value. On behalf of these Marines who have left all or part of their lives in this country and on behalf of the Vietnamese recipients of your generosity, I want to thank you for entrusting us with your funds so that we may help Vietnam find the future it so richly deserves."

Mrs. Gordon goes on to state that as she is in no position to contact every citizen in every state, she is hoping that everyone who reads this message will tell friends, mention it at club meetings and perhaps some groups will band together and sponsor benefits for the cause. Donations in the form of checks or money orders only, may be mailed to CARE, INC., c/o U.S. Marines, Huntington, L.I., N.Y.

Spoooky parties and things

And on to what's new around town. Event of the weekend was the Krewe of Nereids' Halloween party Saturday night at St. Clare's Parish Hall.

Most showed up in costumes and it was one of the spookiest gatherings ever. Kenny Koshmann, Lois and Henry's son, was winner of either weekend in Acapulco, Mex., or a color television, but don't know which he decided to take.

As for some of the outfits, they could only be described as wild. Karen and Cal Smith, attired as Cleopatra and Anthony won the prize for best couple; Lillian Griffin won most original for her Raggidy Ann get-up; and Tommy Kidd, as the lion from the Wizard of Oz, was first for men in this category. Betty Lou Nay as a pumpkin was judged Most-to-Do-with-Halloween. Jewell Miller was cutest as Phyllis Diller and Henry Maggio as the Flying Monkey, cutest man in the house. Gerry Blanchard appeared as Morticia, we think; Patty and Dick Johnson appeared as the Queen and Tin Man from Wizard of Oz; Betty and Fred Rose were a couple of Beatniks and Shirley Wilson was wearing the miniest skirt with long black hose, so guess she was a cigarette girl.

Mrs. Elizabeth Homes always enjoys all the fanfare which takes place on her birthday and the date, Oct. 28, just happened to coincide with Navy Day.

Sorry 'bout that Billy. In writing the long, sad tale of the alleged embezzler, a couple of weeks ago, we did not mention Pvt. Billy Carbonette as police officer assisting in the investigation and he spent a lonely long vigil watching the trailer the night before a suspect was apprehended.

Get well soon

Our sick list is full to overflowing once again. Nancy (Mrs. Lucien), Jr., Tex will have been sprung from Hancock General's Room 131 after a ten day occupancy, by now. Joe Church was released Thursday after having surgery at the hospital. John Aud, who had been in the hospital this weekend there, is home again. The rich man's disease - gout! Donald Maufrey was also hospitalized with a tummy complaint.

Uncle George Keith was discharged a couple of weeks ago and looked great when we saw him going to his doctor for a check-up.

Grace Mrs. J.D. Peterson is also up and around again after spending six weeks with a cast on her right foot. She suffered a severe sprain and ruptured tendons when she ran from her Jeff Davis home to go to the aid of a neighbor who had become ill.

Henry Otis, daughter Carolyn and his mother, Mrs. Lamar Otis, enjoyed their after-Labor Day vacation in Panama City. They didn't like the fact that it rained almost constantly during their two week stay.

Among guests enjoying food and drink, were Alice and Bubba Heitzmann and four children, Leola and Owen Heitzmann son-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Burge and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Davis; Margaret and George Heitzmann and son, Bobby, with date, Connie, the Jack Browns and Laura Piazza and "Foots"

* Politics but crooked

In the short time since we received first, Canada and the International Conference of Books News paper Editors, some in county politics trades appear to have been made that leave us in doubt as to what is right.

Now some of these deals are just plain illegal if only to use the county as the creature of the state and its authority to do so is all too clear. For instance, there is no accounting for the sudden change between the board of supervisors and the new commissioners. The new supervisors seem to want to change our government to a county manager form and that is the last thing the supervisors want.

Some other publications propose a quick solution. Super say and his ten man in power not withstanding the fact that the commissioners then our.

It is also rumored that members of the port and harbor commission will be required to sign undated resignations thus making the board of supervisors the port and harbor commission. This, in its face is illegal. Specifically the port and harbor commission is appointed for four years.

The power to appoint means you can appoint the body but yourself. This is the error Bay St. Louis made.

We had thought that the supervisors-elect would constitute the best board of supervisors in recent years. It looks as though we will be sadly disappointed - if legal action to correct this is required, we brought suit twice before and would not mind doing it again.

Wasn't it nice

In Monday's tornado wake nothing can compensate for the loss of life and injuries. But one good aspect did show up - the cooperation between communities. In our own county, shortly before 8:30 a.m., Hancock General Hospital was asked to stand by. From then until some time after 9:30 a.m. local doctors stayed at the hospital and extra nurses were called in. Even when the highway patrol notified the hospital that its facilities probably would not be needed, the hospital kept on duty some extra personnel and the doctors stayed by the phones.

In some ways these are little things, in some ways they are just what you would normally expect. But doesn't it make you feel better to know that your confidence was not misplaced?

Teen Times

The weatherman couldn't have been kinder to local schools holding Homecoming celebrations the past couple of weeks. North Central High and St. Stanislaus shared their festivities weekend of Oct. 20-21 and Bay High and Valona C. Jones last weekend. Ed Porter occupied the coat of honor with Ruth McChayor, Betty Terrellemon and Pam Lohr as matriarchs of our court and the Bay High affair in Tiger Stadium.

The halftime show was spectacular and both bands were heartily applauded. Bay High graduate Karen Williams is director of the Poplarville band, which looked quite sharp in green and white uniforms. The Tiger musicians did some novel formations, followed by a graceful performance by the Tiglettes, climaxed by Becky Blackledge twirling a fire baton on the darkened field.

And once again our Drome Queen comes through. She passes on the word that Edith has been floating around lately, could Vaughan have anything to do with her state of mind?

Will Bobby Batt ever grow up? He and a couple of buddies showed up at the most recent football game with balloons in their mouths.

Wild Thing has a thing about Peanut cartoons. He still has a garage full of hamsters.

The gleam in Drome Dame's bright brown eyes is due to a certain member of the opposite sex.

Sally Jean and probably one or two others, have made up their minds about Robert, whatever that means.

Pam and Donnie got together last Saturday night and apparently straightened out all of their difficulties.

Why wasn't Dandy playing football during his homecoming game?

Are Rocky and Bullwinkle now a steady twosome. What about Buster Brown?

Gary Yarborough is due got well wishes having broken his nose in football practice last week.

Catchie Cridas has been under the weather for the past couple of weeks and was forced to miss all the homecoming fun, but returned to school on Monday.

Hancock labor totals decline

The total civilian labor force for Hancock, Harrison and Claiborne counties was estimated at 40,000 for mid-September, according to the Mississippi State Employment Service.

The figure is 780 less than a year ago when 40,780 persons were estimated to be employed in the area.

In August of this year the figure was 40,010, 010 or 1.7 percent higher than September.

Seasonal employment subsides and the return of students to school accounting for much of the change.

The cause of the decline in labor totals is due primarily to the drop in the number of employed entry workers as a portion of those youth return to the classrooms thereby severing their attachment to the labor market. The unemployed rate for the tri-county labor market area was 8.0 percent of the total civilian labor force, compared to 8.9 percent in August and 8.7 for August of a year ago, according to MSES.

SAKANTCHA W.M. KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

With the opening of the dove, rabbit and squirrel seasons our woods are full of trigger happy sportsmen and reports of full bag limits are being heard in every hand.

There are more sows in the fields now than during the first part of the season, while rabbits and squirrels seem to be plentiful in nearby woods.

To keep up on fishing, speckles are being caught up Juncal River by trolling according to Ben Hille who landed quite a few the other day. Benny said he was trolling rather fast.

Stevie Neuzemau, the author of a vacation, learned quite a bit about fly fishing.

He made a couple of trips last week and did fairly well but Stewart and Peter are temporarily working at the Beach Inn are fishing the river off.

I understand that Ben Mitchell was in the Bay recently visiting friends. Bob now lives in Los Angeles and represents a real sport and fisherman. He was with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad for quite a number of years, then Louisiana is boasting about the seven and a quarter pound trout he caught recently while fishing with his wife.

Shrimps are getting scarcer by the minute and the season is just about over.

Including a hunting trip better clean and oil your gun, especially when hunting where there is salt water. Vaseline is a good preservative to keep the gun from rusting. Salt water spray will rust a gun pronto.

Ken Elliott enjoyed a couple of days fishing at Leesville with Duke Elliott and Ting Fanteante. He returned to Monroe, La., with codles of big redfish and speckles.

Won't be too long before crayfish will make their appearance. Plenty of the "mud bugs" are caught around New Orleans and there are a lot of folks waiting to go after them.

Was amazed to hear Bobby Strong say he caught a couple of soft crabs in his trap the other day. He said they have been catching mostly jumbo shrimp.

Thanksgiving Day will soon be here and so will the races at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans. We have a lot of local racing fans here who are awaiting the opening day.

Al Mercier has been bragging about the large white trout and ground mullets he has been getting out by the Railroad bridge. Both fish are good eating and a lot of fun to catch.

Raoul Tefhard has been catching some nice speckles up Jordan River using live shiners. Raoul is one of our best fishermen and sure gets his share of fish.

Roy Baxter at Pearlington always has plenty of aluminum boats for rent and believe it or not, outboard motors to go with them. Fishermen should meet Roy. He thrives on making others happy. Especially when it comes to fishing.

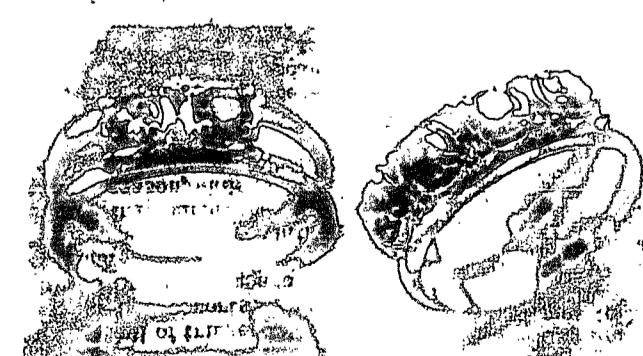

Tony Nacaise, who usually does the paddling for others, enjoyed catching salt water fish himself.

Tides of the past week have been running exceptionally low and green trout fishing has been hindered somewhat from lack of water near the banks.

Lockers come unfastened

At VCJ Homecoming

Valena C. Jones came on strong in the last half to celebrate homecoming with a 34-18 win over locker High of Wiggins in real cool football weather Saturday night in Tiger Stadium.

The going was rough Saturday against Wiggins and the streams is beautiful. Fresh water fish are being caught with the fly rod, casting rod and by trolling. The fall of the year is best for most any kind of fish.

John Fletcher has invented a new contraption to carry his catch gear out of the bayway.

We are constantly asked what fishing and hunting licenses are required by residents and non-residents. According to state law rates are:

State resident hunting and fishing license, $5; resident fishing license, $3; resident permit, 3 days fishing, $1; non-resident fishing, annual, $6; non-resident tourist fishing, three days fishing, $1.50.

Hunters return with game

A group of Bay St. Louis sportsmen got up early one morning a couple of weeks ago and drove to Norwood, Col., where they camped in the woods, sleeping in tents by night and stalking deer by day. They shot nine which they cut into venison steaks to stock their freezers.

Making the trip in two pic-ing trucks were Leo Moran, Red-

den Brewer, Gay Waltman,

Eddie Gentz, Melvin Barnes,

David Rutherford and Larry Breland. They returned last

Thursday after spending eight days on the trip.
